

This award recognises outstanding initiatives within the field of bus transportation that have made a significant positive impact in Wales. Initiatives can range from innovative technology implementations to strategic planning and community engagement.

Entries must clearly explain how the submission meets the criteria specified.

Judges will be looking for entries that can demonstrate:

Innovation: The extent to which the initiative demonstrates creativity, originality, and forward-thinking in addressing challenges or improving services within the bus transportation sector.

Impact: The measurable and positive effects of the initiative on the efficiency, sustainability, and overall performance of bus services, as well as its influence on the community and stakeholders.

Collaboration: The degree of collaboration and engagement with relevant stakeholders, including government bodies, communities, and industry partners, to ensure a holistic and effective approach.

Scalability: The potential for the initiative to be replicated or expanded to other regions, showcasing its adaptability and scalability for broader impact.

Sustainability: Consideration of the environmental, social, and economic sustainability of the initiative, reflecting a commitment to long-term benefits for both the transportation system and the community.
